

Important Announcement about Extending the Implementation of Online Courses until Semester 109-2 Ends and Other Related Teaching Information (24 May, 2021)

According to the resolution made by the pandemic prevention conference at 24 May, 2021,

- 1. The implementation of online courses are extended until semester 109-2 ends, all teachers, part-time teachers and students should not come to school but do the courses online at scheduled class time. Diversion is adopted because bandwidth traffic is taken into consideration. The regulations of diversion must still be followed according to the announcement on 14 May, 2021.
- 2. Supplementary explanation of final exams and other related measures are listed below:
 - a. Final exams can be started from 7 June, 2021 and the semester scores can be submitted started from 14 June, 2021 in advance. The end of the date of the final exam remains on 25 June, 2021 and the deadline for submission of the semester scores remains on 4 July, 2021.
 - b. In-person final exams have been cancelled, teachers can take alternatives such as online exams, written reports or oral exams. If the exam finishes early, teaching work is still necessary after the exam, you can do such as analyzing the answers of the test papers, explaining the contents of the report, providing self-learning teaching materials and other teachings.
- 3. The instructional assessment scores of semester 109-2 are for reference only and will not be included in the official record or used for other purposes. Students still need to fill out the questionnaire online between 24 May, 2021 and 20 June, 2021.
